Sheriff's Men Hunt Marijuana Peddler

Discovery of a supply of expertly-rolled marijuana cigarettes underneath the Second Street bridge in Lafayette spurred the sheriff's office this week into a hunt for a narcotics peddler believed to be operating in this area.

"We're keeping strict surveillance over the area," Inspector Ray Stoffels, head of the narcotics and vice squad said. "We're pressing an investigation, in an effort to find the peddler or the source of supply."

According to Investigator William Faulkner, who was assigned to the case by Stoffels, a small paper bag containing 26 skillfully-rolled marijuana cigarettes and a supply of marijuana seeds was found under the bridge between Moraga Boulevard and Golden Gate Way by a 10-year-old girl last Saturday. "We haven't had much trouble up to now regarding narcotics in the Lafayette-Walnut Creek-Orinda area," Faulkner said.

"BUT THIS DISCOVERY has drawn our attention to a possibly serious situation, particularly among teenagers. The bag of cigarettes and seeds had probably been hidden under the bridge."

"Neighbors say they have seen teen-age boys congregating there."

All indications are that the cigarettes were rolled by a professional peddler. It's possible a peddler is operating in this area, selling the stuff to high school students. "WE HOPE PARENTS will watch the actions of their children and that they'll inform them of the dangers of marijuana."

The girl who found the marijuana supply had been playing under the bridge, looking for "buckeyes." She was with her mother, who was waiting for a nearby service station to service her car.

The sheriff's office was called in to investigate the matter. Faulkner pointed out that the seeds can be planted and grown.

Stoffels said that the supply found under the bridge would probably sell for $35 on the narcotics market.

Sewer Board to Call Bond Issue; Health Authorities Demand Corrective Action

Directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District voted to call a bond issue in the neighborhood of 3½ million dollars on or before May 1, 1954, at a special meeting Monday night.

Forcing the issue were representatives of the state and county health departments.

who demanded action to correct the sanitary problem caused by winter overflow of the Orinda pumping station into the San Pablo Reservoir of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

"THE AMOUNT of the bond issue is not definite. It will be based on detailed plans of correctional work throughout the entire system, from Orinda to the treatment plant in Pacheco, which are now being drawn up by District Engineer Jerry Horstkothe Jr."

At a meeting November 5 directors authorized Horstkothe to spend "up to $10,000" to draw up detailed engineering plans of the necessary work.

"Stop-gap" measures to take care of the sanitary problem in Orinda were taken Monday night because, as directors explained to Dr. Henrik Blum, County Health Officer, and A. A. Reinke, chief of the bureau of sanitary engineering, State Department of Public Health, "the work could not be done this winter under any circumstances."

"THEY EXPLAINED to the health officers, who had given the board a ten-day ultimatum (see separate story) that construction is not possible in the winter rainy season and that finances are not available at the present time."

As a stop-gap measure they authorized the engineer to spend up to $20,000 for chlorination equipment and installation with which to treat any overflow in Orinda, should it occur.

The board questioned Dr. Blum as to whether or not this would satisfy the county and state health officers, but Blum replied: "We can't tell you in advance if your stop-gap measure will work. Let's say you don't undertake this procedure and we have to shut down EBMUD's reservoir. I can see that eventually, on the other hand, we may have to do it anyhow. I can't answer that question now."

REINKE ADDED: "Three years ago we were promised an over-all solution. Please notify our department, as well as EBMUD whenever an overflow occurs. We are going to follow this rainwater problem through in Orinda, I assure you."

With reference to the permanent solution of the problem, Dr. Blum asked the board: "Give us some kind of assurance that a call for a bond issue will have taken place by a definite time — in time for construction before next winter."

He also agreed that the temporary chlorination procedure was "a step in the right direction," but that they had come to find a definite date by which time a bond issue would be held.

IN EXPLANATION of what the bond issue would cover, Horstkothe indicated that the money would be used in an over-all corrective program.

He said that "if only enough money were asked in a bond issue to correct the Orinda situation, the problem would merely be moved downstream to Lafayette, and so on all the way to the treatment plant."

When heavy rains occur, he pointed out, and the Orinda pumping

Letters Drive Sewer Board to Call Bond Issue

The decision to call a bond issue by May 1 by directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District was precipitated by the following letters read at the meeting November 5.

The first is from E. A. Reinke, chief of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, State Department of Public Health. It is as follows:

"WE HAVE RECEIVED your letter of October 15 regarding steps to be taken by your district to correct the overflow situation in Orinda."

"This letter is not a satisfactory answer to the letter we wrote you October 14 in that you have not set forth a definite and positive program to prevent future overflow."

"(DISTRICT ENGINEER) Jerry Horstkothe Jr. informed us that a definite program was not outlined in your October 15 letter."

"We expect your board to take action to finance and correct the overflow at the November 5 meeting, in which steps your board will take to correct the overflow will be clearly set forth together with a time schedule for completion."

Another letter from the State Water Pollution Control Board was read as follows:

"FOR SOME TIME we have been aware of the problem of the discharge from your Orinda Pump Station, as far back as December 20, 1951."

"We are therefore interested in the position taken by the State Health Department wherein they point out the hazards and ask you to take corrective action, but reserve the liberty for appropriate action in the future."

"THE THIRD LETTER was from the East Bay Municipal Utility District to E. A. Reinke. A copy was sent to the sanitary district. Here is the text:

"We will request CCSD to inform the filter plant immediately when there is an overflow from their pump station."

"We will have our own personnel watch the situation."

"WE WILL MAKE frequent chlorination tests to determine if there is an increase in contamination."

"We will vary our treatment to counteract any increased contamination."

"OUR OPINION is that the above is not a satisfactory solution. We intend to take every step within our power to assure elimination of that condition, whether it be a recourse to the courts or whether it be a referral to the public in order that sufficient information can be disseminated that will force a correction of a bad situation."

"WE FEEL THAT it is necessary that you take a strong attitude in this regard that involves the health and safety of such a large segment of the East Bay population."

The letter was signed by Louis J. Breuner, president of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

The letters were read by Acting President Ernest Spiegel.

Proposal on Head Planner Evokes Clash

Leaders of the Planning League of Contra Costa County this week expressed resentment over what they referred to as Supervisor H. L. Cummings' "antagonistic attitude" to league recommendations on procedures for selection of a county director of planning.

However, Cummings, chairman of the county board, said yesterday that his remarks at Tuesday's Board of Supervisors meeting were intended only to remind the league that "we welcome their suggestions but the Board of Supervisors is responsible to the people, and in the last analysis the procedure to be followed is up to the board."

Boone Robinson of Orinda, president of the Planning League, submitted the following recommendations to the board Tuesday morning:

1. THAT THE COUNTY director of planning "shall have had leadership experience in the preparation and implementation of a comprehensive, long-range, general master plan."

2. That the position be filled "only after a competitive examination, widely advertised so as to attract the best qualified applicants from both in and outside Contra Costa County."

3. That "three or more distinguished members of the planning profession shall be appointed to serve as a Board of Examiners by the Civil Service Department" and that the director of planning be appointed "from the three applicants certified by the Board of Examiners, after examination, as being the three applicants qualifying highest for the position."

After Robinson had read the recommendations, Cummings said: "WE ARE ALWAYS willing to take constructive suggestions. But I think this board is perfectly competent to make its own appointment to make a self-appointed planning commission and not a duly elected body."

King Parker Jr., executive director of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, told the supervisors he felt the recommendations were inappropriate and that he believed they constituted "more or less an indirect slap at your present planning bodies."

George Wise, business agent of the AFL Carpenters Union and a representative of the Contra Costa County Building and Construction Trades Council, charged that the league was attempting the "first step to move and usurp the power of the Board of Supervisors." He added:

"I CAN'T HELP but be suspicious of the thought behind this move today. It looks like an attempt to put a government behind the county government."

Supervisor Ivan Goyak asked Robinson whom the Planning League represents.

Robinson replied that the league represents industrial and agricultural groups and many improvement associations, including the Orinda Association, the Lafayette Improvement Association, the San Ramon Valley Improvement Association, the Pleasant Hill Civic Council and the Ygnacio Valley Improvement Association.

After Cummings' statement on the supervisors' competency, Robinson said that the objective of the league is to "get better planning in Contra Costa County" and "to work with the Board of Supervisors and the Planning Commission and assist them in obtaining the necessary public support."

In reply to Wise, the league president said:

"It is my understanding that exactly the same procedure was used in the selection of Victor Sauer as road commissioner, and I certainly can't see anything insidious in that."

BUT CUMMINGS yesterday stated that this was not the case. Sauer went through the regular civil service procedure, Cummings said. "The Board of Supervisors interviewed the successful applicants. We decided that Sauer was the best"

School Board To Act on Petition At Dec. Meeting

Action by the Orinda School Board is expected to be taken on the petition asking for a policy on physical punishment in the schools at the regular meeting December 7, according to Superintendent of Schools Joseph Sheaff.

Sheaff said that he had heard no comment since the group of parents appeared with the petition November 2 asking that the school board present written policy on the matter.

A special meeting is being called Monday night for the purpose of studying a proposed bond issue, but Sheaff said the matter of the petition would not be brought up at that meeting.

The petition, which was signed by 69 Orinda parents, was presented to President Edgar Stewart just before the last meeting of the board.

Mothers Club To Meet Thursday

The meeting of the Orinda Mothers' Club Tuesday at 1:45 p.m. at Orinda School auditorium will feature a panel of speakers from special services.

The following speakers will give a resume of the special services offered to students of the Orinda School District:

DR. H. L. BLUM, County Health Officer; Mrs. Claire Winder, Orinda School District nurse; Frank Isola, physical education director; Harland Lewis, guidance consultant; Mrs. Georgia Cooper, director of music; Miss Ellen Lynch, general elementary supervisor; Phil Lambert, director of education; Mrs. Lucille Moore, librarian; and Miss Sara Sabelman, director of music.

Miss Sabelman will direct the Orinda School 6th grade class in classroom singing. Teacher of that room is Miss Virginia Dobyns.

THIRD AND FOURTH grade classroom work will be displayed and refreshments will be served by 6th grade mothers, including Mrs. W. Mulks, Mr. Burnham's class; Mrs. F. Guarnieri, Mr. McNichols' class; Mrs. R. Spott, Miss Dobyns' class and Mrs. K. Schevill, Mrs. Cooper's class.

All mothers are urged to attend.

Blast Causes Power Failure

Blasting in some of the early stages of the Orinda Interchange job caused a power failure in Orinda last Friday.

According to a Pacific Gas and Electric Company spokesman, the Village was "out" for one minute, the Crossroads section and several blocks north and south of the Crossroads were "out" for 51 minutes and the Kaiser Quarry had a power failure which lasted about six hours.

THE SPOKESMAN said that the blast damaged an 11,000-volt wire which runs from the Claremont substation into the Orinda area. The circuit goes north to the Orinda substation and south into the Moraga area.

When the line was broken, a 60,000-volt line which comes into the Orinda substation from the South Valley substation at Carquinez Straits was automatically switched on, restoring service in one minute to the Village.

SERVICE WAS RESTORED to the rest of the affected area by the Claremont substation in 51 minutes, except for the Kaiser Quarry.

The blast occurred at 2:55 p.m.

Steiner Named To Court Post

Richard Anthony Steiner, 4 Valley View Road, was recently appointed master calendar clerk of the Contra Costa County Superior Court.

He is the first person to hold such a position here.

He was appointed by County Clerk Walter T. Paasch to fill the position in which he has served for nearly a year pending a civil service examination. He topped the list of candidates.

Association Vote On-Deadline Nov. 30

Ballots were received by 5050 residents this week for the annual election of Orinda Association directors.

Five directors are to be chosen, one from each association district where a vacancy occurs. All persons who have paid their 1954 dues, regardless of where they live in Orinda, can vote for the five posts.

CANDIDATES ARE: District 1 — Robert L. Boyle, Joseph D. Nicollet; District 2 — Joe Conley, Ralph Hickox; District 3 — Clinton Easterbrook, Hal Neeland; District 4 — Jim Davison, Mrs. Stuart Henderson.

Deadline for return of the ballots is November 30.

MEMBERS OF THE Orinda Junior Woman's Club started telephoning Orindans Tuesday, urging them to return their ballots promptly and to pay their 1954 dues.

This telephone campaign will continue until next Friday, with a follow-up schedule for November 23 and 24.

Votes will be counted from November 30 to December 5. The newly-elected directors will be installed at a board meeting December 14.

Nursery School Finds Dads Real Handy

Saws whined and hammers clanged as nearly 100 fathers of Orinda Nursery School children "sang" for their supper last night at the school's annual Fathers' Night.

Following a potluck supper served by mother members of the school, the fathers got down to the business of repairing and building outdoor equipment and performing other general maintenance work.

Mothers assisted on less strenuous upkeep projects.

Thus, once a year parents of enrolled children gather at the Orinda Community Church, home of the cooperative Nursery school, to repair the ravages wrought by exuberant small fry.

REAL TALENT was observed among the fathers as lofty architects, doctors, lawyers and business executives turned carpenters, plumbers and general repair men for the evening.

District Tax Limit Up for Approval Again; 25 cent Increase Discussed

Voters will be called on to decide the tax limit of the Acalanes Union High School District sometime before the 1953-54 budget is approved, trustees said Tuesday night.

In 1948, voters approved for five years a tax limit of $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation; it runs out this year. According to state law, if the rate is to be over 75 cents, district residents must give prior approval.

COMMENTING ON the program, Carl Newbury, board president, said, "If we had to operate on the 75 cent rate, we'd be out of business." If the issue proposed by the board were to lose, 75 cents per $100 would be the maximum.

Superintendent Neil Parsons suggested that since both Lafayette and Orinda Elementary Districts are so close to hold special elections in the near future, it will save money if in conjunction with one of them.

He also pointed out it will take at least 70 days before an election can be held.

PARSONS RECOMMENDED the tax limit issue not be included on the general election due in May, suggesting it might be "lost in the shuffle," as at least three issues will be on the ballot then.

Trustees discussed the amount of limitation to be asked, and the figure of $1.75 was brought up. Trustee Alice McBride suggested it might be hard to sell a higher figure to the voters.

Board member Bill Freeman pointed out that the tax limit figure is not necessarily what will be charged, but added that eventually the higher figure may be necessary for district operation.

Freeman said the district will keep rates as low as possible, consistent with good operation. He pointed out that in the first two years after the $1.50 maximum was approved, the district rate was $1.20. The following year it was $1.35, then $1.42 and is $1.48 this year.

He added some people fail to realize some of the money is used for building as well as district operation.

IN OTHER ACTION Parsons reported the district had shown the lowest cost of operation per average daily attendance of the secondary school systems in the county for 1952-53.

Figures from a report from County Superintendent of Schools B. O. Wilson showed the following costs for last year: Acalanes, $334; Liberty Union, $355; Richmond Union, $360; San Ramon Valley, $374; Alhambra Union, $439; and Contra Costa Junior College, $584.

A study of reports from 1940 through 1953 shows the district has been consistently low — the lowest in six years, and second low in two years.

He also represented the Orinda Chamber of Commerce.

PARTICULAR OBJECTION was voiced against plans of EBMUD for multiple dwellings in the Pine Grove, which would adjoin a shopping center.

It was unanimously agreed that a master plan for Orinda is needed quickly and that there should be no rezoning until such a plan is forthcoming.

Orindans, Inc., will hold a meeting on the Pine Grove controversy Tuesday, 8 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the Orinda Community Church.

Burning Permits Required all Year

The following statement was made by Fire Chief H. E. Wyatt this week to clear up any misunderstanding regarding burning regulations during the winter months.

"Burning permits for both incinerator or open fires are required throughout the entire year. Burning hours are from sunrise to 11 a.m."

"When applying for a permit, please give at least three days' advance notice."

Permits may be obtained at the two Orinda Fire Houses.

Next Week's Room Meetings

Individual room meetings arranged for next week by the Orinda Mothers' Club are:

Monday, Miss Marian Scofield's Glorietta second grade mothers at the home of Mrs. George Kozak, 214 Overhill Road, 3:15 p.m.

Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. William Kooreman, 22 Meadow Park Court, 3:15 p.m., the mothers of Mrs. Paula Collins' Glorietta fourth graders.

Next Friday, the mothers of Miss Marilyn McPherson's Glorietta fifth grade children, 3:15 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Frank Shirey, 69 Hillcrest Drive.

Two Lucky Buck Winners This Week

Lady Luck in the form of SUN "Lucky Bucks" smiled right at two Orindans this week — Mrs. Robert Taylor of 41 Stanton Avenue and M. G. Guido of 21 Avenida de Orinda.

Both Mrs. Taylor and Guido smiled right back and took their "Lucky Buck" one-dollar bills to The SUN office, where they exchanged them for $5 each.

Will you be able to do the same this coming week? You may do even better, if you're the possessor of a dollar-bill worth $10 or $25 in this contest.

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO is compare serial numbers of your one-dollar bills with the serial numbers listed in today's SUN. If one of your numbers is listed, bring the bill to The SUN between 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday of next week and exchange it for the $5.

Mrs. Taylor studied last week's list, checked her dollar bills and — presto! — converted the "Lucky Buck" in to $5.

"I'M CERTAINLY happy about this," she said, "I don't know where

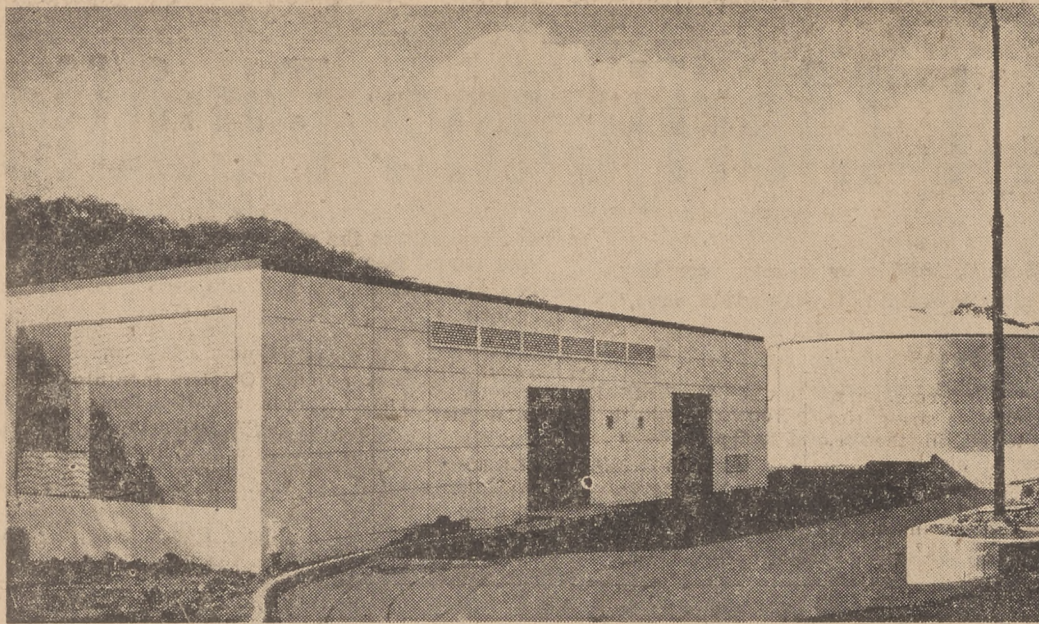

I got the 'Lucky Buck'—but I think the place was a store in Orinda."

Guido's good fortune followed a similar simple course of action.

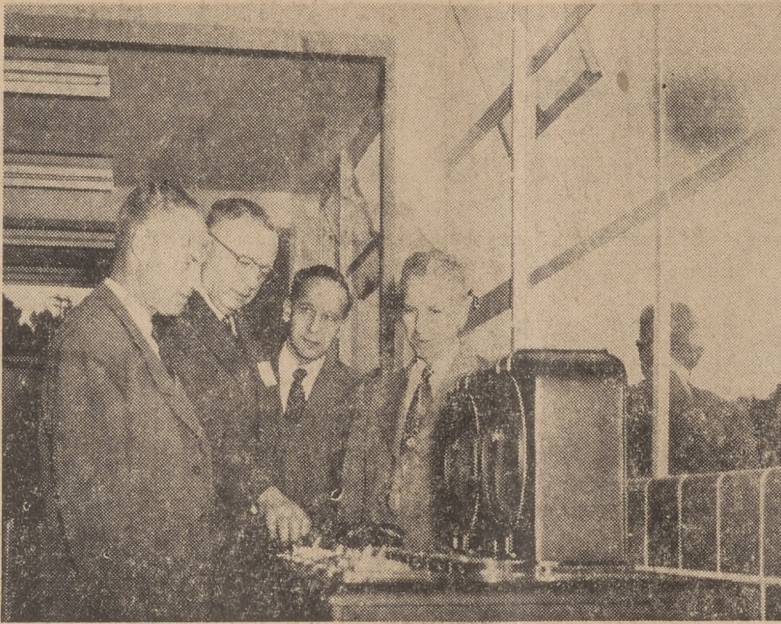

He, too, said that he did not know where he obtained the "Lucky Buck" but that he thought he got it in Orinda.

Ten "Lucky Buck" one-dollar bills are placed in circulation each Friday by The SUN, in stores in Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Lafayette and Orinda. Each week's "Lucky Bucks" treasure hunt lasts from 9 a.m. that Friday to 9 a.m.

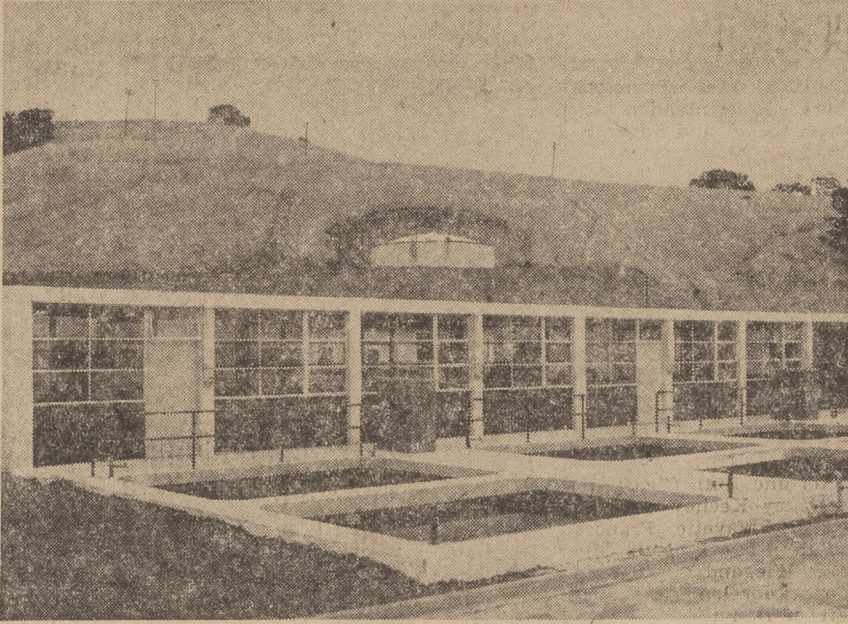

the following Friday.

LAFAYETTE FILTER PLANT, new $800,000 installation of the East Bay Municipal Utility District which serves the Lafayette-Orinda-Walnut Creek area, was placed in operation Monday. Here is an exterior view of the Bryant-Colorado Pumping Station and the 300,000-gallon filtered water clear well.

New Services Law Studied By Taxpayers

An analysis of the new county service area law was released this week by the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association. An unusual amount of authority is given the Board of Supervisors in applying the law, the association reports.

Briefly, it enables the county to provide "extended services" to local areas, charging the latter for the extra cost. Police and fire protection, parks and recreation and any normal county services can thus be provided on a more concentrated basis than that already being given to the county at large.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE enacted this law to halt the free special services that some areas were receiving at general county expense, however, a radically new departure in local government has been made possible, the Taxpayers' Association asserted.

These service areas are not special districts, cannot own property or do work themselves and are not subject to normal budgetary controls. The county provides the service desired and then assesses residents of the area.

How much to charge a local area is left for the supervisors to decide. First they would have to determine what level of any particular service is already being provided over the whole county.

THEN THE COST of the extra service to be provided could be based on population, assessed valuation, work load (such as the number of crimes for police), or flat service charges. These costs are then assessed against the local property owners and collected with the annual taxes.

Formation of such an area involves either petition or action by the supervisors and then a vote. Essentially, the new law puts the county in the municipal service business, according to the Taxpayers' Association. For urban areas it is another alternative to incorporation as a city or to the Community Services District, which is a multi-purpose, locally controlled and operated agency.

Clayton Valley Moves Near Annexation To Sewer District. New Terms Given

Following the presentation of new annexation terms by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District Monday night, Clayton Valley residents indicated that immediate action would be taken.

The terms would permit the Clayton Valley area to be annexed without participating in the retirement of the present bonded indebtedness of the district.

THE VOTE WAS three in favor of the terms, directors Frank Salfinger, M. H. Stanley and Irving Roemer, with acting president Ernest Spiegel voting against the terms.

R. S. Dowell, spokesman of the contingent which has been negotiating with the Sanitary District for the past three months, said Wednesday that committee would meet immediately to discuss the proposal.

HE ALSO URGED all interested property owners to call at the sanitary district office in Walnut Creek to include their property if they desire since the boundary must be closed in approximately 10 days.

"We wish to publicly thank the Central Sanitary Board for its courtesy and for the use of its files and advice. We believe the board has acted in the public interest in attempting to serve the area," Dowell said.

"The committee is convinced that this problem should be solved on an area basis to avoid the continuation of building homes with septic tanks and later paying a duplicating cost for sanitary connection," he added.

THE COMMITTEE asked the City of Concord for similar terms and possible methods of financing in line with the announced city policy for logical city boundaries and contractual service for areas beyond these boundaries. To date no answer has been received," he said.

The terms were extended after the consideration of a report by District Engineer Gerry Horstkotte Jr., in which he pointed out the following facts:

1. Clayton Valley would provide treatment plant expansion capable of accommodating 15,000 people. Present addition of population if the area is annexed would be about 9,000 people.

THE ULTIMATE population of the annexed area would be 40,000, computing the density of population at 10 persons per acre. However, the plant facilities which the annexed area would provide under the present terms could be expanded to handle 45,000 people at a cost of $75,000.

Horstkotte estimated that it would be three to five years before the proposed expanded plant capacity is reached.

2. A 21 INCH LINE would be constructed from the treatment plant in Pacheco to Four Corners. This line would have a capacity of 31,000 people. It would be served by trunk lines branching out into the residential areas to be served by the district.

All of the cost would be born by the annexed area through bond issue proceedings.

3. THE ANNEXED area would provide its own sewers through local improvement district proceedings.

"WHEN FUTURE expansions of the line size in this area are required; the costs of such expansion as well as the costs of expansion of the plant facilities will be borne by the annexed area," Horstkotte reported that. "In view of the fact that this proposed annexation would provide its own independent trunk facility and its own treatment facility and will float the bond issue necessary to provide the funds necessary for these purposes, the elimination of the area proposed for annexation from an obligation to retirement of existing indebtedness arising from the provision of additional facilities is appropriate."

Officers of the Grand Lodge will be guests at a dinner to be given by the three lodges, and which will also be attended by their own officers, led by Harold Pauli, Jack Shabbazian and Martin Quinn.

March of Dimes Explains Why Not in Crusade

The Contra Costa County Chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis this week issued a statement explaining why it has not joined the United Crusade.

The United Crusade insists upon a budget from its affiliated members. Since polio is, in most cases, an epidemic disease, it is impossible to budget our anticipated expenses," said Mrs. Wakefield Taylor, chairman of the local March of Dimes chapter.

Stating the polio group's position, she explained, "It is against national policy for us to be connected with any joint fund raising effort. This policy is the result of very careful consideration."

Phillip Johnson, chapter treasurer also explained, "For more than four years our National Chapter has returned more money to the Contra Costa County Chapter than has been sent to it from local March of Dimes donation as its share."

"Had we been a part of any joint fund raising venture, countless patients in our county would have gone without medical attention and post-polio therapy. We do not exist to raise funds — we raise funds to exist," he concluded.

EBMUD Turns Valve at New Filter Plant, Soft Water Begins to Flow

Soft Mokelumne water began to flow into all Central Contra Costa homes served by the East Bay Municipal Utility District this week.

At formal dedication ceremonies Monday, EBMUD's brand new $600,000 Lafayette Filter Plant was officially placed in operation by Louis J. Breuner, president of the board of directors.

Approximately 100 civic leaders from Lafayette, Orinda, Pleasant Hill, Saranap and Walnut Creek were guests of the Board of Directors of the Utility District at a commemorative luncheon held just prior to the official opening.

AT THE LUNCHEON, Honorable Donald D. Doyle, Assemblyman from the Tenth District, Thomas S. Neilson, EBMUD Director who represents this area, and Breuner all spoke briefly about the occasion. John W. McFarland, EBMUD General Manager, served as chairman for the program.

Following the luncheon, the group gathered at the Lafayette Filter Plant, where Breuner, by means of a lever, officially turned soft Sierra water from the district's 93 mile long twin Mokelumne Aqueducts into the new water purification plant.

The guests present then toured the plant, conducted by R. C. Kennedy, EBMUD Chief Engineer, at which time the methods used at Lafayette Filter Plant were explained to them.

THIS PLANT, which is practically automatic in its operation, has a filtering capacity of 21 million gallons a day, and is so constructed that it can be enlarged, when it becomes necessary, to filter three times as much water.

Especially interesting is the new type chlorine applicator, which guards and controls the minute

CAN YOU BELIEVE the Big Game is just a week away? It seems that once school starts, the holidays are upon us before we know it, and since we are an All-California family the holidays for us begin with the Big Game.

There are lots of other loyal Bears in the area, too, witness the crowd of 300 which attended the California Grid Club's meeting held recently at El Rancho Grande. The club meets weekly during football season but once a year when they have Bud Foster as a speaker, they round up all the local alumni.

So the California Varsity can expect a lot of support from Orindans when they meet Stanford next week in Palo Alto. In fact, I hear tell there are some Indian rooters hereabouts too.

The Santa Maria Women's Club doesn't play any favorites, but they are doing their best to make Big Game day a festive one by holding a well-timed bake sale that Saturday morning. So we can all pick up a pie, cake, or casserole at the Crossroads before going to the game.

PARTIES, PARTIES
Football isn't the only reason for parties. Recently Mrs. Glen Carter and Mrs. John E. Grant were co-hostesses at a large baby shower honoring Mrs. Hayden Bridwell Jr. who is expecting her third child.

Guests at the party were the Mesdames Robert Pelz, Bell Fisher, Cesar Candia, Howard Gravelle, Alvin Parsons, Brooks Gardner, Warren Hagstrom, Peter Pardini, Don Neill, Robert Shepard, Eugene Pearson, Anthony Vyberril, Fred Dunn, Lloyd Ludwig, Marvin Gilardi, Leonard Pankonin, Herbert Waterman, Lloyd Farrar and Thomas Flippin.

The Tanagers, Orinda unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, is bustling this week with plans for their fashion show and luncheon to be held next Thursday at the Brazilian room in Tilden Park.

Helen Harris Benioff will present a lovely fashion show featuring furs, so appropriate for this time of year. The event will aid the building fund of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. Tickets, at $1.50, may be reserved by calling Mrs. Joseph Downs at Orinda 3626, or any Tanager member.

Mrs. Downs was among the throng of ladies present at the latest Heidi luncheon held recently at Mt. Diablo Country Club, to benefit the Children's Home Society.

Other Orindans who enjoyed the fashion show were the Mesdames Aubrey Sweet, Fred Federighi, Nels Hamburg, Howard Leach, Stan Nightingale, Robert Maddox, William Young and Laurence Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCoy entertained dinner guests recently at their home. Guests were the Paul Greaggs, Wirt Farleys, Meryl Goudards and Bob Jones.

GOV THEIR NUMBER
Mrs. Ross Winan and her daughter leave next week for Seattle to visit her sister. When Mrs. Winan returns it will be just about time to move into their new home on Tappan Court in time for Christmas. They sold their home on Tappan Lane to the Richard Goulds from Los Angeles, who, with their five children, are a very nice addition to Orinda. The Winans didn't want to move too far from their last residence and risk losing their phone number which is just about the easiest to remember in town—2345.

Another new family in the community are the Fred Kelsey's from Cincinnati who are renting the home of Jim and Jane Kersey on Lehigh Lane. The Kelsey's will be in New York for a year.

Traveling even further from home are Captain and Mrs. W. H. Pickett who sailed on the Presidential Cleveland for Manila, and from there they will fly to Siam where Captain Pickett will be stationed for the next eighteen months.

THE PICKTON'S two sons, Shaler and Jeff, accompanied their parents and daughter Beth, a student at Scripps, will join them during vacation. The Roger Hammakers are renting the Pickett home at present.

This column is only in The SUN every other week, so even though Halloween parties may be old news I did want to mention the unusual one held at the home of Doris and Mac Chapman on Overhill Road.

It was really a cooperative affair for all the neighborhood children living on Overhill and Tara Roads. Since they included all age groups it was decided to let the older children entertain the younger ones. Irene Macdonald and Margaret Korad were the co-producers, writers and directors of a "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" skit that was the hit of the evening.

Snow White was played by Susan Natress, Prince Charming was Steve Unnivehr, the Queen was Kathy Gregg, and Roger Kline was a guard. Judy Whitmarsh introduced the play and Sally Cary narrated part of the story.

The Dwarfs were reduced in number from seven to five in the skit and their part were played by Clyde Macdonald, Perry Smith, Gary Staff, Don Chapman and Glen Tobias.

TOP-FLIGHT PARTY

At first the party was going to be mainly for the children, but by the time all the parents who wanted to see the little play arrived, there were 86 people present. Merle Tobias, Lois Staff and Doty Speech brought refreshments and the Cub Scouts and little girls decorated the Chapman's play room.

So it really was a memorable Halloween party, thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Surprise Party For Robert Boyles

A delightful surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyles at St. James Court October 24, to celebrate the "new addition" in their home.

A beautiful family room has just been added to the Boyle residence. This was a necessary addition, with four children in the family. The Boyles were ready to go out to dinner when they opened the door to find Mrs. Bernard Wilber, together with all the surrounding neighbors and some friends on hand to help celebrate the occasion.

They came complete with food, refreshments, games and prizes. Those who helped make the party a success were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. Seaman, F. Wyatt, G. Curtis and W. Witter and Mrs. Seaman's mother, Mrs. Cookson.

GOP Women to Meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Orinda Women's Republican Club will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Orinda Community Church.

Mrs. Eugene Prince of San Francisco will speak on "The History and Structure of the Republican Party." This subject is important, to all Republicans and all Orinda women are invited to take advantage of this meeting.

St. Stephen's Bazaar Coming

Are you thinking about your Christmas list? An approach to St. Stephen's favorite doll, something unusual for the tree? You'll find them all at the St. Stephen's Christmas Festival to be held from 1 to 10 p.m. on Thursday, December 3, at the Orinda Community Church.

During the afternoon a large variety of Christmas articles will be on sale at the various booths, which include handmade goods, doll clothes, Christmas decorations, white elephants, children's clothing, and Parcel Post. Entertainment for children will be provided by the young people of St. Stephen's. A dinner will be served by the Altar Guild during the early evening.

Chairman of the Festival is Mrs. Ida Zamocho, ways and means chairman of the Auxiliary, who will announce her committee chairmen at a later date.

Halloween Party for Fernsten Children

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fernsten, 6 Woodcrest Drive, Orinda, was the scene of a Halloween party given by Karen and Susan Fernsten.

The playroom was decorated with gaudy pumpkins and cornstalks and 60 strings with marshmallows were suspended from the ceiling. Tubs full of water and lots of apples for dunking provided much fun and all the other Halloween games were thoroughly enjoyed by the girls' guests including:

Orion Card Party Set for Wednesday

Orinda Orion, monthly card party will be held at noon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Tom Moore, 25 Valley View Drive.

Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Kenneth Stringer, Orinda 2291.

The party has been advanced to Wednesday from the usual fourth Wednesday of the month because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Sorority Chapter Hears About Wills

After a short business meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Smith of Orinda recently, chapter members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha of Gamma Kappa Chapter, and their guests heard John Ober, an attorney, discuss "Safe Deposit Boxes, Inheritance Laws and Wills."

A program planned for the next chapter meeting by members will be at the home of Mrs. Andrew Catherall of Orinda, who will present the guest speaker for the evening, Miss Katherine Hanrahan.

Miss Hanrahan is a research attorney with the California Supreme Court and will talk on "Women's Property Rights."

Guests and members who had the opportunity and pleasure of meeting John Ober during the evening were the William Brandts, Andrew Catheralls, Charles L. Smiths, Emil C. Risis.

Mesdames Raymond Beeson, Bruce Boswell, Herbert Carter, Harry Clemons, Edward Cordero, Vernon King, Victor Ortergen, Eldon Quimby, Morris Skinner, Gene Davis, Roberta Burnham, M. Ivancich, Jack Hennings, and S. Stanley were also present.

Orinda Kids Plan Dance Friday

Next Friday at the Orinda School Auditorium the first of a series of school dances for seventh and eighth graders will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Last year's eighth graders are invited to attend this first dance of the season.

Extra-special music will be provided by the use of four new record albums donated by last year's graduates — sounds like lots of fun for all, so come on alumni, join the 7th and 8th graders in launching their first school dance!

Marjorie Morrow Tells of Plans Trip, N. Y. City

Miss Marjorie Morrow, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Morrow of the Orinda Community Church, flew to New York recently and spent two days there before embarking on the S. S. United States for England and France.

Marjorie wrote that on the air trip little could be seen of the country below from the Mississippi River to New Jersey because of clouds below the plane's 17,000 foot altitude.

In New York she saw the spectacularly beautiful United Nations Building and attended a plenary session of the General Assembly presided over by Mrs. Pandit. She heard a good speech, she said, by the delegate from Israel, and also heard the Russian and Indian delegates express their usual disapproval on a credential report.

It was a thrill to listen to the interpreters in French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian.

In this letter she spoke of her attempted stroll along Broadway but had to give it up as she couldn't buck the enormous crowd that was a tide going in the opposite direction to the one she intended to follow.

Marjorie intends to make her headquarters in Paris and will attend the Sorbonne University for a term. She also expects to travel in Italy and Germany, and when in Munich to see Frances Groves, who is studying voice there.

Choral Group to Meet Tuesday

The Orinda Community Chorus will meet at the Orinda School Auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m., according to Miss Sara Sabelman, director.

"We need more tenors and bases," she said, "although we have had a good turnout at previous meetings."

The community chorus is for the entertainment of the individuals who like to sing in a group. It meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month. It is hoped that the chorus will develop so that community concerts may be given.

"At present," said Miss Sabelman, "we are working on Hammerstein's 'You'll Never Walk Alone,' a negro spiritual called 'Poor Man Lazarus,' and other choral numbers."

Mrs. David Hagmann Assists at Tea

Mrs. David L. Hagmann of Orinda assisted at a tea recently at the Alpha Phi Sorority in Berkeley.

The Alumnae Chapter sponsored the tea, honoring five distinguished personages, Mrs. William S. Gregson, international president of the alumnae groups; Miss Doris Corbitt, national secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Robert S. McGuen, editor of Berkeley, national director of alumnae and extension and Mrs. Lester S. Ready of Berkeley, house mother at the chapter house.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

New Lutheran Church Is 'Official'

The Shepherd-of-the-Valley Lutheran Church, 294 Orchard Road in Orinda, will formally be organized into a self-governing congregation, Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service, when this new church will be brought into being by the Dr. James P. Beason, president of the Evangelical Synod of California, a part of the United Lutheran Church of America.

THE JUNIOR CHOIR directed by Mrs. Ruth P. Andersen will be robbed and provide special music for this service.

The Women of the Church have prepared lunch which will be served in the Activity Room following the formal organization service which will be held in chapel.

THE TOTAL BAPTIZED membership of this organization will number 112. Eighteen of these people will join through confession of faith, 51 through transfer of membership and 43 through child membership.

The Charter Membership List includes the following adult people: E. J. Bowers, Bruce Silver, C. P. Totten, Walter Hill, Ellsworth Hill, Ed Whithers, Hal Engman, Frank Jones, W. R. Ammon, Harold Role, J. R. Smith, Mark Shepard, Herman Busch, Donald Graham, Lloyd Hechter, Thomas King, William Koebe, Lloyd Ludwig, R. H. McLaughlin, Leonard Odenthal, Harry Oliphant, Raymond Myers, Nils Norman Miller and Robert Babcock.

THE CONGREGATION also includes the following: Hans Altorfer and Heidi, Helen Clark, Jack Bowers, Eleanor Hubner, Coleman Huntley, Irene Macdonald, Eileen Dunbar, Ruth P. Andersen and Jean and Joan, Katherine Pederson, H. R. LaFond, L. M. Atkin, Thomas Stalcup, R. B. Brodbeck, Mae Fritz, Muriel Hansen, Hendricks, and Betty Keiser.

Happy Birthday to You

KITTY WINKWORTH
Kitty Winkworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Winkworth, 14 Valley Drive, celebrated her sixth birthday October 24 with a Halloween birthday party.

A pumpkin witch made a wonderful centerpiece, and the Halloween birthday cake was enjoyed by the following guests: Kristine Kelley, Kirstin Greene, Mary White, Connie de Laveaga, Karen Bentley, Vandra Gorenson, Sandra Ivy, Patsy Stevenson, Joann Lewis and Julie Winkworth.

SUSAN KENDALL
Susan Kendall celebrated her seventh birthday October 17 with a Halloween birthday party. All her guests attended dressed in their Halloween costumes and enjoyed the Halloween motif decorating the house, as well as games appropriate to the occasion.

Guests were Mary and Patty Gilman, Sandra Folliard, Betsy Merrill, Virginia Burde, Gay Price, Gail Haywood, Rita Hagemann, Denise Cullen and Betty Kendall.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Kendall, 15 Los Altos.

MICHELE MILLER

Michele Miller of the Michael Millers on Tappan Lane celebrated her fifth birthday on October 24. All the little guests enjoyed the cake and ice cream and the hot dog lunch.

Guests were Kent and Randy Williams, Stan and Paul Majka, Francis and Doug Gillespie and Sidney and "Biff" Cutting.

RUSSELL BIRKHEAD

Russell Birkhead's seventh birthday party was a winner roast complete with games and prizes. The following children were present: Bob Ternes, Raoul Yrberri, Jonathan Miller, John Weatherbee, Kenney Rand, Jeffrey Kingston, Mark Rhoda, Steven Gullick and Ronny Birkhead.

SUSAN PAGNELLO

Susan Pagnello celebrated her fourth birthday October 25 with the following neighborhood friends: Beth and Bill Lincoln, Bill Bergesen, Jill McCaffrey, Jonathan and Gayle Miller, Diane Leichter, Butchie Howe, Norma and Carol Ann Bishop, and Gordon Pagnello.

Thursday Meet For Young GOP

Orinda Young Republicans will meet Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Platt, 77 Sleepy Hollow Lane, to participate in a panel discussion on "The Republican Party and Contra Costa County Politics."

Joe Creighton, regional vice president of the state Young Republicans, will act as moderator of the discussion.

CREIGHTON WILL introduce Chuck McCoy, former chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower group in Richmond, who will discuss "Republican Organization."

Betty Irwin, former secretary of the state Young Republicans, will speak on the "Role of Young Republicans," and Hal Arnot will discuss the "1954 Elections." The speakers are all members of the Orinda Young Republican Club.

CREIGHTON STATED that the meeting would stress practical politics in Contra Costa County and should be of particular interest to new Young Republican members.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will be open to all local residents interested in the organization.

Refreshments will be served.

Tanager Unit To Give Fashion Show Thursday

The Orinda Tanager Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will hold its Luncheon and Fall Fashion Show at the Brazilian Room in Tilden Park, Thursday at 12:30 p.m. The benefit show, presented by Mrs. Helen Harris Benioff, will feature members of the Tanager unit as models.

General chairman is Mrs. Francis Wyatt. Assisting her are Mesdames Dan Carter, Joseph Downs, Donald Krotz, T. A. Schilling and Sterling Smith.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Tanager unit.

Anna Husar Now In Riding Club

Anna Louise Husar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Husar of 14 Tarry Lane, Orinda, has been formally initiated into the Prince of Wales Riding Club at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., yesterday.

She will henceforth wear the black and blue ribbons and carry the horseshoe symbol of recent club membership.

The club was organized to promote interest in the education of riders and to encourage sportsmanship and an appreciation of fine horses.

Members are selected on the basis of ability and interest in horsemanship.

Catholic Women Plan Cake Sale

On Saturday morning, November 21, the Santa Maria Catholic Women's Club is holding a cake sale at the Sproule-Reitz store in Orinda. There will be home-made cakes, pies, cookies and casseroles.

The sale will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the date makes it convenient for those giving Big Game parties that night, or those who wish to freeze food for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. John L. Stoffel heads the committee in charge of the sale. Mrs. A. J. O'Brien Jr., Mrs. George and the ladies assisting her are M. Andrada and Mrs. Victor Baumhefer.

Mother Dies While Visiting Daughter

Mrs. Lydia Feist of Little Rock, Ark., died suddenly Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Everett A. Ham, 17 Normandy Lane, Shipy Hollow.

She was in Orinda for a short visit with her daughter. Services will be held in Little Rock.

Mrs. Ham flew back to attend the services. Arrangements were made by Chapel of the Valley in Lafayette.

Discuss Beef Cuts

The Orinda Home Department will meet at the home of Mrs. George R. Thomson, 3 Loma Vista Drive Thursday at 10 a.m.

Beef promotion will be the subject and will feature the preparation, seasoning and tenderizing of the cheaper cuts of meat.

Luncheon will be served so all can see how tasty as well as conservative these cuts can be. Please make reservations by calling Orinda 2410 or Orinda 2043.

Recipes may be obtained from your butcher by the courtesy of the Cattlemen's Association.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

INVESTMENT FACTS FOR WOMEN, no matter what you might think to the contrary, has nothing to do with your activities at the grocery store. Instead James Morris of Merrill, Lynch, Fenner and Bean will speak about investments of another type, so come along on Tuesday morning at 10:30 to the Orinda Country Club and, for the price of $1.50, you can find out all about it. Lunch afterwards if you make reservations, and you can watch the Joseph Magnin fashion show, too.

Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Hammond are home from a flight to Flint, Michigan, to pick up a car, and then drive back by way of Des Moines, Estes Park and the fabulously beautiful Rocky Mountain National Park. Interesting visitors—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simpson from London who were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winquist.

Right next door, nice and cozy

Wonderful trip with a gay start. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boysep and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Wiggins had rooms on the Zephyr—side by side—without planning it that way or even knowing about it before hand. Their mutual friends, in the know, however arranged a champagne and canape party on the train for the departure and in celebration of the Boysen's anniversary. Those on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Heywood Gathings, Milton Selby, Ambrose Macdonald, Joseph Rupely, Roger Stark and Joseph Lang. Then the Boysen's went to 1) Kenosha, Wisconsin, and visited the Sheldon Duncans—also went through the Simmons Plant 2) in Racine the Frank Lloyd Wright building for Johnson Wax, 3) in Washington the Supreme Court where Chief Justice Earl Warren looked most impressive 4) Mt. Vernon and the Capital buildings 5) in New York the plays "Can Can," "Me and Juliet" and "Wonderful Town." The spectacular United Nations building where they listened to the sessions through ear phones in five languages. 6) Philadelphia and the races, Atlantic City and sea food—lobster, blue points and a BUCKET of clams all in one sitting. In Jersey they met the Jake Jacobus', friends of the Ritchie Smiths. And so a wonderful time, not the least of which was the dramatic beauty of the countryside as viewed from the Zephyr dome.

AND NOW THE WIGGINS—Also visited the Duncans then on to Chicago, Ohio and Detroit where they picked up a car (why a "pick-up"—aren't we peculiar with our expressions—look what we have done to those nice Hammonds and Wiggins—can't you just fancy them staggering around balancing an auto on their shoulders where no auto ought to be). They drove home through the Grand Teton National Park and Yellowstone. The latter they had practically all to themselves because it had started to snow and the season was over so they drove through in solitary glory, master of all they surveyed, and what they surveyed was quite something in "winter white."

Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Jack Edwards, entertained with cocktails last Saturday for visiting Rear Admiral and Mrs. Joseph Cronin.

Henning Johnson is traveling in Sweden.

Lapidist, lapidary, lapidarius, a Greek?

Do you know a lapidist when you see one? They do not live in Lapland and they don't cause trouble at social gatherings by sitting on the wrong laps. Instead they are rock hobbyists who prowl the hills and valleys for fascinating formations—rocks, that's what—and it, lapidary, seems to be an interesting pastime.

Orinda followers of the art are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hainlin, when they can spare time from fishing and sundry interests pertaining to their camping cabin (so convenient and uncanny they use electric blankets to baffle the chill) they go digging around in certain carefully selected areas for special specimens. Judging by the enthusiasm it must be almost as much fun as golf.

Lucky little Diablo Area Girl Scouts. Where else can they get in on such happy and educational experiences as these? On Sunday last Mrs. Eugene Shurtleff and Mrs. Ritchie Smith loaded their station wagons and took the young ladies to the Curran Theater to see Spike Jones. Not only that, they were taken backstage and introduced to the performers who really fractured the Diablo Area Scouts. There is the possibility that the Scouts, in turn, fractured the Spike Jones gang but we forgot to place our spies in that quarter so we don't know for sure.

Foreign tales, with pictures yet!

ON MONDAY LAST Mrs. William Schulberg gave a talk with colored slides to Scout Troop 146, Mrs. Schulberg, born and reared in Indonesia described the area and told of experiences which intrigued the young as well as the three adults on hands. She brought sarongs, ceremonial robes, silver, jewelry and wooden carvings from the Dutch Indies and pictures of Queen Juliana's coronation in Holland. On the back page of one of the coronation pictures was a cartoon comparable to our Pogo series. One small pair of bright eyes spotted the cartoon and asked that it be read aloud. Mrs. Schulberg obliged by reading it in Dutch then English. As far as we were concerned it sounded just like Pogo either way.

That is all.

Bridge, Canasta Games Next Week

Orinda Mother's Club bridge and canasta sections will be held next Thursday and Friday at the following homes. Thursday, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Randall Cook, 20 Glorietta; Friday, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Jeff Schwark, 35 Via Hermosa and Friday, 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ronald C. Kersh, 11 La Campana.

There is a 75 cent charge made to cover the cost of refreshments provided by the hostess — All bridge and canasta players not yet in the Mother's Club sections are encouraged to attend. Please call Mrs. Moxley at Orinda 2523 if you are interested in playing.

Looking for a good buy? Then look in the classified section.

AAUW Fellowship
Concert on Monday

The Fellowship Concert of the Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women will be presented on Monday at 8:30 p. m. in the multi-use room of the Parkmead School.

Mrs. Oscar Anderson will present a piano concert and Mrs. Charles Price will sing with Mrs. Charles Morman as her accompanist.

Mrs. Anderson, a native Californian, has both a bachelor's and master's degree in French and Latin from the University of California. The greatest part of her musical study was done under Phyllis Ashley and the late Benjamin Moore.

While doing graduate work, she received three master class scholarships with Sigismund Stojowski. She also received a Mills College musical scholarship for piano. Mrs. Anderson has given many piano recitals and had club engagements throughout the state.

While in Hollywood, she worked for some time in connection with an art group. She is especially interested in chamber music and sonatas. At present, Mrs. Anderson teaches mathematics and Spanish at the California School for the Blind and is affiliated with Pi Lambda Theta, education sorority for teachers.

Mrs. Price is a graduate of the College of Music and a Bachelor of Arts degree. She studied voice in San Francisco under Easton Kent and at present, is studying with Mrs. Eileen Pigott in Berkeley.

FOR THREE YEARS, Mrs. Price

sang the soprano solo for the "Messiah" with the Acalanes Evening Chorus group. This year she is soloing with the Contra Costa Singers for the same production. At present, she is in the choir of the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. While in college, she did soloing with the capella choir, the band and the orchestra, plus working in musical comedies and dramas.

She is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music honorary and Pi Kappa Lambda, graduate music scholastic honorary. In addition to being president of the Walnut Creek branch of AAUW and many other activities, Mrs. Price conducts several classes in music appreciation.

Mrs. Charles Morman is a graduate of the University of Indiana School of Music. While there, she studied with Bomar Cramer and Ernest Hoffzammer.

ON GRADUATION, she taught music in the public schools in Indiana for a year before coming to California. During her musical career, she has had wide experience in accompanying. Mrs. Morman has taught piano in this area for the past five years.

Proceeds from the concert will aid the Fellowship Fund of the Walnut Creek Branch of AAUW, according to Mrs. Edward Dunlap, Fellowship chairman. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and children. Tickets may be obtained from the fellowship committee or at the door. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Women Take
'Hawaii Trip'

Wanted across miles of the blue Pacific to the island paradise of Hawaii by the musical strains of the steel guitar were more than 100 members of the Lafayette Women's Forum during their November program tea last week in the Veterans Memorial Building.

Greetings extended by President Mrs. E. W. Hase set the friendly atmosphere that prevailed throughout the afternoon. A true Hawaiian setting was created not only by the authentic and colorful decorations and music, but by the gay orchids, leis and costumes worn by the members and guests.

THE PROGRAM featured a group of Hawaiian dancers who have made a study of both authentic and modern hula. Leader of the group was Patti Dahl of El Cerrito. Assisting her with the dances were Gloria Jones, Mary Morrison and Flora Snaer of Berkeley.

Commentator was Mrs. R. H. Hunt of Lafayette who has spent much time in the islands. Mrs. Hunt wore a lei of fuchsias for the occasion.

Other members of the Forum who had lived in Hawaii were introduced to the group by Mrs. Hase.

THE DECORATIONS for the party, which even included palm trees, were arranged by Mrs. T. J. Clark and her committee. Travel posters depicting the pleasures of the islands decorated the walls as did large samples of batik and native art of the Hawaiians. Assisting Mrs. Clark were Mrs. R. H. Hunt, Mrs. L. J. McKim, Mrs. R. F. Ouer, Mrs. Mary-Ann Pearson, Mrs. Ne-Dean Stevenson and Mrs. J. Dwyer.

A unique table arrangement depicting a native scene backed by driftwood and sea shells was done by Mrs. E. Barlow, prominent Berkeley clubwoman, especially for the occasion. Mrs. Barlow was a guest of the Forum that afternoon as were other Berkeley club leaders, Mrs. Elsie Duttall and Mrs. Charles Cobin.

MRS. R. F. OUER, program chairman, presented special gifts in the form of orchid corsages to two members. Those receiving the orchids were Mrs. Frances H. Nelle and Mrs. F. T. Hawkesworth.

Gowned in Hawaiian costumes were the members of the membership committee under the leadership of Mrs. Mel Nielsen.

THOSE WHO WELCOMED the guests at the door included Mrs. Paul Agajan, Mrs. J. Wayland Barnett, Mrs. John Bermingham and Mrs. W. Morgan.

Serving on the hospitality committee were Mrs. John Deuman and Mrs. Oscar Huebner.

Mrs. L. D. Miller and Mrs. Harold Munkic presided at the tea table, while serving on the tea committee were the Mesdames Ellen Jackson, Nick Granados, C. D. Rhodes, Owen Haskell, Earl Egan, Ne-Dean Stevenson and Mary Ann Pearson.

Madame Bardet
To Address BPW

The Lafayette Business and Professional Women on Monday night will hear Madame Yvonne Bardet, world traveler and a foremost exponent of furthering friendly relations with our European allies, France in particular.

The club will meet at Hall's Drive Inn at 7:30 p. m. Madame Bardet is well known in the Bay Area, having taught French at the Anna Head School for nine years until her resignation last June. During her tenure there, she conducted tours through France.

At present time, in keeping with a nationwide movement of the American Association of Teachers of French, Madame Bardet is expanding extra-curricular French classes in local schools.

Monday night's meeting will start with a potluck dinner.

Georgette Irwin, chairman of legislation, has arranged for the program and will introduce the speaker.

Orinda Junior
Women Will Hear
Mrs. Edith Dinkin

Mrs. Edith Dinkin, local artist and former director of Artists' Market of Lafayette, will be the guest of the Orinda Junior Women's Club at its next meeting Monday at Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church.

The Orinda Juniors are looking forward to meeting with Mrs. Dinkin who will discuss the work of various art groups in the area, such as the Children's Art League, Frodo Sam Ramon, Mary Williams, Sally King, Katha Niles, Marilyn Jones, Trudy Hagstrom and Barbara Nelson.

On behalf of Heidi, Mrs. Alfred C. Phelps of Danville, president, expressed her gratitude to all the friends and guests of Heidi who attended the event.

THE EXPRESSED apologies on behalf of the chapter to those unable to obtain tickets during the last few weeks due to the tremendous response which resulted in all tickets having been sold several weeks in advance.

Darlene Coulson
Weds Bill Packett
In Catholic Rites

At home in an apartment in Alamo are Mr. and Mrs. William L. Packett (the former Darlene Mary Coulson), whose wedding was solemnized Saturday evening, October 24, in St. Mary's Church in Walnut Creek.

The Reverend Thomas L. Collins of St. Perpetua's Church in Lafayette officiated at the seven o'clock ceremony to which only close friends and relatives of the young couple had been invited. A wedding reception was held at the Coulson home on Eastview Drive for 70 guests.

THE DECOR at the Coulson home was carried out with white geraniums, tall white tapers and white satin bows.

For her wedding Darlene chose a waltz length gown of white nylon tulle with a bodice of chantilly lace. The bride's veil, which was finger tip length, was held in place with a frilled, circular crown of tulle and lace.

Around her throat, Darlene wore a tiny heirloom cross, and she carried a white prayer book from which cascaded white bouvardia and satin streamers. The arrangement was centered by a white orchid.

SHIRLEY ANN COULSON, sister of the bride, served as her sole attendant. She was gown in a dress of similar pattern to that of the bride, only of Alice blue with a matching jacket. Her headpiece was of blue tulle and her bouquet was fashioned of white daisies with large golden centers.

Gregory L. Golden of Parks Air Base served as best man for the bride, who is the son of Lester Packett and the late Mrs. Ann Packett of Pawnee, Nev. At present Bill is stationed with the Air Force at Parks Base, where he is a staff sergeant. He served for two years previously with the Air Force at Okinawa.

DARLENE, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Coulson of East View Drive, was given in marriage by her father. Her mother attended the wedding in an afternoon gown of steel blue crepe.

A graduate of Holy Names High School in Oakland, the bride is now employed in Walnut Creek. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon traveling in Southern California where they had the pleasure of visiting the new Mrs. Packett's 91-year-old grandfather, W. W. Lechner.

Frances Eaton, John Gruver Jr. Married in Reno

Surprising both family and friends, John Gruver Jr. and Frances Eaton were married Saturday in Reno.

Frances, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Eaton of Alameda Avenue in Walnut Creek, carried a bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis for the ceremony.

The bride's father is head track coach at Acalanes High School. She was graduated from East Contra Costa Junior College in 1952.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gruver of Magnolia Way in Walnut Creek. He was graduated from Acalanes in 1950 and is now studying for a degree in business administration at San Francisco State College.

John will graduate next June and until that time the newlywed couple will reside in Reno. He is a member of the United States Air Force Reserve.

DAR Chapter To Celebrate Birthday

Ann Loucks Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will meet, according to annual custom, for the birthday observance at the home of Mrs. George Bitton, 1121 Grandview, Martinez, Saturday, according to chapter regent Norma L. Warner, Walnut Creek.

A full afternoon of business has been planned by the regent following the 1 p. m. dessert. With the December meeting to be a Christmas party in conjunction with Mount Diablo Society Children of the American Revolution Miss Warner will ask for reports from officers and chairman.

On the holiday list are checks for the Veterans Hospitals Christmas Committee, to Mrs. E. E. Cameron for the box to be sent the Indian children in a north coast school; to Mrs. L. Adams for her work with the committee in charge of the U. S. Immigration Center and the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital, formerly known as the Marine Hospital.

Mrs. J. C. McGeehon, State chairman of the D.A.R. Good Citizen Committee will report on that project and request the chapter to continue sponsoring entrants from the county high schools.

DAR Plans Meet
At Lyon Home

Acalanes Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met November 2 at the home of Mrs. George Bennett in Walnut Creek.

Refreshments were served at 12:30 after which the meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. Eleanor Lyon. A Thanksgiving prayer was offered by Mrs. Allene Newell, chaplain, and regular rituals were observed.

DECEMBER 4 WAS set aside for the next meeting of the chapter at Woodland Lodge, home of Mrs. Harvey B. Lyon. There will be a short business meeting and the balance of the day will be devoted to wrapping gifts and filling cylinders with candy, nuts, cookies and other bon-bons as the chapter's Christmas donation to the veterans in the hospital at Camp Stone-man.

The book, "Your Rugged Constitution," was autographed by members present and will be presented to George Reich in appreciation of the times he has given interesting reviews and talks for the chapter.

AFTER VARIOUS discussions pertaining to subjects for future consideration the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Kaye Dewey and Mrs. Vera Ammen who gave members topics on national affairs to be studied and talked on at future meetings.

Theta Upsilon
Alumnae to Meet

The November meeting of Delta Valley Theta Upsilon alumnae will be held Wednesday at the Acalanes Valley home of Mrs. William R. Sommer on Valente Court.

The presentation to the university of a plaque commemorating founding of the national sorority at California in 1914 will be highlighted to those who were unable to attend the ceremony in Pan-Hellenic room of Stephen Union at the Berkeley campus last Monday.

Mrs. Zache Visits

Mrs. M. C. Zache of Acalanes Valley, Lafayette, has been visiting her sister in Grass Valley.

Tuesday Morning
Forum to Hear

Margaret A. Dunn

An artist of distinction holding an enviable position of actress-play reviewer is featured in the second program of the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum.

She is Margaret Alexander Dunn, whose one-woman show is unique and exciting with highlights of the New York theater and a review of a recent Broadway play. Miss Dunn, new to Tuesday Morning Forum listeners, appears Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. at Diablo Country Club.

GRADUATE of the famous School of Speech of Syracuse University, Miss Dunn has appeared on concert platforms throughout the country, played leading roles in companies of "The Royal Family," "The First Mrs. Fraser," "As You Like It," and "Susan and God."

The very pleasant and informal coffee time preceding the artist's appearance will be continued and the directors have again asked young matrons of the Forum membership to assist in serving.

THE MESDAMES Lawrence Curtola, Harold Smith, James Kelley and Elizabeth Phillips will preside on Tuesday and Mrs. Kendric Morrish and Mrs. Melvin Jacobus of Orinda will represent the area sponsors as hostesses.

Mrs. Reginald Biggs, coordinator for the directors, extends an invitation to all interested in attending Diablo Forum programs.

Tickets for this morning of unusual entertainment are available at Box 24, Diablo, or at the Diablo Country Club.

Acalanes High School, District to Have Lafayette Phone Numbers Soon

Phones of the Acalanes High School and the Acalanes Union High School District office will be on the Lafayette exchange within the next 30 to 45 days.

The phones are Yellowstone numbers. Calls to and from Orinda are toll calls. With a Lafayette phone number, no toll inside the district would be toll calls.

SUPERINTENDENT NEIL Parsons began discussions with representatives of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company more than two months ago following receipt of a letter from the Orinda residents complaining that he had to pay toll on calls to the high school.

Originally phone officials were hesitant to change the exchange as the dividing line between Lafayette and Yellowstone numbers runs down the center of Pleasant Hill Road in front of the school.

M. H. Stanley, charter member of the board, pointed out the company

County To Get $288,273 from Highway Taxes

This month Contra Costa County will receive $288,273.21 as its share of the State Highway Users' Tax for the three-month period ended September 30.

To be used for county roads, the apportionment was part of a total of $13,864,990 for all counties in California.

This, in turn, was the counties' apportionment of $56,972,444 total revenue from the following sources: Net gasoline tax, $51,020,130; use (diesel) fuel tax, $2,264,333; transfer from motor vehicle transportation tax fund, $3,440,251; and miscellaneous, $241,710.

Figures were reported by State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood.

County Highway Plan Hearing Set

The proposed major highway plan for Contra Costa County will be heard at a public hearing, December 4 in the Hall of Records in Martinez, County Planning Commission announced this week.

The first phase of the general highway plan will include freeways, highways, major county roads and proposed major county roads. Thomas G. Heaton, planning technician, said.

Purpose of adopting the plan is to provide the commission with information to aid them in considering subdivision and land use applications, he continued.

The highway plan will be incorporated in the county master plan which is still being prepared. Heaton said.

Robert L. Condon To Make Address For Contractors

Congressman Robert L. Condon, representative from Contra Costa and Solano Counties, is to address the membership of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County at its regular monthly dinner meeting to be held at 7 p. m. Wednesday, it was announced this week by J. H. Crawford, Martinez, president of the association.

Congressman Condon will address the contractors on "The Federal Government and Its Actions Relating to Home Building" at its meeting to be held at the Rancho Grande in Lafayette.

According to Crawford, the next session of Congress will act upon housing legislation which will have a great impact on the construction industry. Legislation along private enterprise in slum rehabilitation and the modernization of present structures to prevent the deterioration of such structures to slums could result in a revitalization of communities throughout America, he stated.

Crawford announced the appointment of a committee consisting of Dan C. Peacock Jr., Orinda; Harold E. Parker, Martinez; and William "Bill" Berk of Richmond to meet with County Building Inspector Rudy Krantz relative to construction requirements in Contra Costa County.

Magician Gives Show for USO

Jay Bedworth, owner of Tunnel Inn and a fine sleight of hand artist, entertained at a special USO show Sunday evening at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette.

A veteran trouper who has entertained in war theaters and USO clubs throughout the world, Bedworth has also done TV shows and is known as one of the best card manipulators in show business.

IN ADDITION TO Bedworth, there were other performers from Tunnel Inn to entertain the service men, said Program Chairman Lyman Stoddard.

Mrs. Charles Paul, food chairman, stated that the Lafayette American Legion Auxiliary supplied the sandwiches and cakes for the guests, with Mrs. E. Gustafson, auxiliary president, in charge of arrangements.

Senior hostesses were Mrs. L. G. Eby, chairman, Mrs. E. E. Matson, Mrs. William Morgan and Mrs. Ernest Kittredge.

MRS. PATRICIA PONZO, junior hostess chairman, announced that the following hostesses will be awarded pins for having served 50 or more hours: Diana Berry, Darlene MacIntyre and Carol Garhen of Walnut Creek; Marilyn Atkinson of Orinda; and Colleen Roberts, Thelma Wright, Donna McCosh, Jack Hammer, Barbara Shusta, Shirley Welsh and Shirley Wald of Concord.

Board Approves Home, Substitute Teacher Hiring

The names of one home and 14 substitute teachers were approved Tuesday night by the Acalanes Union High School District Board of Trustees.

In discussion, Superintendent Neil Parsons explained the home teacher teachers students who are confined for a period of two weeks or more.

The home teacher handles as many as six to eight students, he said. Some of the home students are those who cannot attend regular classes for a period of a year or more and some students have earned diplomas through studies with the home teacher.

In other action the board authorized students who transfer into the district after driver education class is normally given be exempted.

Parsons said the course, one of book study, is normally given in ninth grade social studies and it would be difficult for 10th grade transfers to have to take the course.

He added the course is reviewed in senior problems class.

Mt. Diablo Scout District Hires 2

Two men have been added to the staff of Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts of America this week, after completing their orientation at the National Training School for Professional Leaders in Scouting at Meridian, New Jersey, according to announcement today by Victor Lindblad, Scout Executive.

Richard Ross, who graduated from San Jose State College in June with a major in recreational methods, has been assigned to Meridian District, where he will serve as assistant district executive for the new district included in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, Alamo and Pleasant Hill communities. Ross was recently married, and is living with his wife at 2039 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Ross is not entirely new to the Meridian District, for he completed the last quarter's work in his senior year working here under John S. Youmans, District Executive, for college credit.

"His experience was so satisfactory, both to himself and the council, that we were able to agree that he should join our staff upon graduation," stated Lindblad. He served for a time on the staff at Camp Wolfboro during the summer, and then entered the National Training School in September. He is an Eagle Scout and Air Scout.

Joseph K. Cross, who becomes assistant district executive with Otis Fuller for the Richmond and Crockett districts, comes from Salt Lake City.

USO Holiday Plans Studied

A board meeting of the USO Committee of Diablo Area was held at the home of Mrs. Franklin H. Pennock, vice-chairman, on Seven Hills Ranch Road recently.

Pertaining mainly to the fall program, the agenda placed emphasis on the approaching Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays with details of food, entertainment, transportation and hostesses included in the discussion. It was especially noted that an extra number of hostesses will be necessary to carry out the holiday plans.

Present at the board meeting were Harold Smith, assistant to senior director under Major Emil Miller; Major Miller, local USO-SA director; Mrs. L. G. Eby, chairman of senior hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paul, food chairman; Mrs. Ernest Kittredge, secretary; Lyman Stoddard Jr., program chairman; and Mrs. Patricia Ponzo, chairman of junior hostesses. Mrs. Don Cort, chairman, was absent as she is presently on vacation.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Pennock.

5 New Scout Units Formed in District

Five new units were organized in the Meridian Boy Scout District in October, according to John S. Youmans, district executive.

Since September, 1952, there has been a 43 per cent increase in Cub packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer units.

There are now 63 groups in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Danville.

MERIDIAN DISTRICT'S share of the Mt. Diablo Council budget for 1954 is $25,500, according to Youmans. This is the amount which goes into the scouting program from the United States in this district, he stated.

Newest of the troops is No. 226, sponsored by the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. This is the second troop under that sponsorship.

Tom Schultz is institutional representative, Dan Condit is Scoutmaster of both troops.

TWO OTHER TROOPS organized recently are No. 219, by the Sun Valley Improvement Association, and No. 221, by the Hillcrest Congregational Church of Pleasant Hill. The Hillcrest troop is the second scout organization for this sponsor. Cub Pack 222 having been organized less than a year ago. Plans are already under consideration for an Explorer Post.

About 10 men on the Troop 219 committee have been taking basic scout training under Ted Kogut, neighborhood commissioner.

NEW CUB PACKS have been organized and are operating in the Fair Oaks community, under sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher Association, and at the Oak Park School, also under PTA sponsorship.

Jack Schulze is institutional representative for Pack 215, Fair Oaks, and Marvin Moier fills the same position for the Oak Park Pack 229. This is the second pack for Oak Park, the first having been activated only a few months ago as Pack 200.

SCOUTMASTER of Troop 219 is Joseph K. Langdell, 2845 Acacia Drive, Walnut Creek. Institutional representative is George S. Low, 1260 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek.

Most of the boys going into this troop are graduating from Cub Pack 79, also sponsored by the Sun Valley Improvement Association.

TROOP 221 will be under the leadership of Benjamin M. Meyer, 1946 Carolyn Drive, Gregory Gardens.

In addition to cubs graduating from Pack 222, boys who wish to be scouts in the Gregory Gardens area are welcome as long as there are vacancies in the troop.

STURMAN of 3125 Withers Avenue, Lafayette, was recently named institutional representative for the Hillcrest Church.

to friends.

"IN THIS way a sympathetic audience is always guaranteed and the active members do not have to waste their time selling tickets," the director said.

"Any surplus tickets left after the minimum quota for each associate member is met will be divided among the active and associate members. No separate admissions will be sold at the door."

Prall urged music lovers to join the organization "in the interest of advancing vocal music in this area." Detailed information may be obtained by calling him at Yellowstone 5-5282 or Oscar Busch at Yellowstone 4-9010.

Man Jailed as Check Passer

A series of bad checks passed in the Tunnel Strip in Lafayette, in Walnut Creek and on the Clayton Strip was believed cleared up Monday with the arrest of an Oakland teamster.

Bernard W. Duffy was booked in the county jail at 12:30 a. m. by Deputy Sheriffs Clinton Jones and T. S. Ormes on suspicion of passing checks after arrest in Walnut Creek, according to Sheriff's Inspector Norman Wilson.

According to Wilson, Duffy is suspected of bilking bar owners of some $100 with worthless paper written for amounts ranging from $7 to $15 over a period of six weeks.

School Workers Sign Second Set Of Loyalty Oaths

Approximately 5000 employees of Contra Costa County schools are signing a second set of loyalty oaths in conformance with new legislation, County Superintendent B. O. Wilson disclosed today.

A loyalty statement is also required of all organizations and individuals applying for the use of school property.

Wilson said the new oath for teachers, custodial and office personnel and other school employees was made necessary by the addition in the law of the disavowal specifically of the Communist Party.

In the original oath several years ago terms disavowing subversive activities were used.

All organizations and individuals desiring to use school property for meetings, athletic events and similar activities are required to sign a statement denying subversive affiliations, the superintendent explained. One annual statement will suffice for groups using the property more than once during the year.

The statement requires a signature only, by an officer of the organization or any other member with written authorization from his group.

Affidavits Needed From School Users

Any organizations which use school property must now sign non-communist affidavits, due to an amendment to the State Education Code passed by the last session of the State Legislature.

Any false statements on the affidavit would make the person who signed liable for perjury prosecution, according to Sam Bradbard, deputy district attorney.

The affirmation states the organization to use school property does not advocate overthrow of either the state or federal government and is not communist affiliated, according to Bradbard.

The affirmations must be signed by an officer of the applying organization or anyone from the organization who brings a written statement from the group authorizing him to sign.

The forms must be completed at least once a year. They are available at schools where applications for room use are obtained.

Officers to Hear Personnel Man

"The Application of Psychology to Police Work" will be the subject of a J. Herman Mattson, personnel training supervisor for Ford Motor Company, when he speaks to the Contra Costa Peace Officers' Association Wednesday.

Meeting at the Danville Hotel at noon, the association will especially welcome guests. Program chairman for the day will be Lieut. Harry Brown of the Contra Costa Sheriff's Office.

More Than 4000 Visitors See Chrysanthemum Show

More than 4000 visitors saw the floral splendor shown in the Walnut Creek Recreation Center in the third annual show of the Chrysanthemum Club of the East Bay.

With a theme "Autumn Splendor" the show had more than 1000 entries of chrysanthemums and displays during its Saturday and Sunday run.

MAX MEYER WON best flower of show award. In the special event juvenile division, Jimmy Fleet received a medal for his flower arrangement. The 14-year-old boy, 10 to 14 year award.

Professor H. M. Butterfield of the University of California, William Penn Mott Jr. of Orinda and Herman Sandkuhle judged horticultural entries before the show opened. Sweepstakes winner was also Meyer, who was awarded the Dr. Ira B. Cross Trophy, while Larry Lind got Watson's Trophy for runner up.

Other awards went to Meier, Fred Kirkham, Lind, Mrs. Lorne Cole, Mrs. George Bowersox, Mrs. Starr Novins, Mrs. John Schroll, Mrs. Lewis Lively and Myra Touchon.

THE "CHRYSANTHEMUM garden" display of the Walnut Creek Garden Club was given a special award and medal. The Garden Section of Walnut Creek Women's Club won a blue ribbon.

Mrs. Warren Deverell, Mrs. F. F. Canham and Mrs. H. O. Parkinson judged flower arrangements.

Mrs. Bowersox was show chairman, assisted by Donald Creamline, Mrs. Lorne Cole, Dr. Cross, Meier, Ted King, Elwin Stone and Mrs. Schroll.

Sweet William, Forget-Me-Not Popular as Ever

Those old-fashioned garden favorites, Sweet William and Forget-Me-Not, are worthy of usage in the gardens of today and are of proven merit for their particular purposes.

Sweet William is a strong growing biennial which must be planted one year to gather the reserve strength necessary for a dazzling effect the following year.

IF PLANTED NOW, Sweet William will make a fine show of color next May and June.

There are both single and double forms of Sweet William. According to the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board, the single form is by far the showiest.

FORGET-ME-NOT is extremely easy to grow and yields showers of dainty star like flowers, for months on end.

According to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board, Forget-Me-Not is best planted so as to grow slowly during the cool months of the year.

BEGONIA MILDEW The mildew that attaches to tuberous begonia is known as "powdery mildew."

In its primary stages, "powdery mildew" appears on leaves as a grayish powder — in small irregular spots. If left uncontrolled, it may cover the entire plant and destroy it.

BUT CALIFORNIA nurserymen say that mildew control is relatively simple and inexpensive.

As the plants begin to grow, dust them with sulphur, repeating the operation every 30 days to two weeks until blossoms appear.

IF CAREFULLY done with a duster, the sulphur will hardly be noticeable. Do not apply it too heavily as it will give the plant an unattractive appearance.

It is not advisable to use sulphur when plants are in bloom, as it will burn the flowers.

The best mildew control for blooming begonias is copper dust.

Dons, Devils Close Grid Play Tonight

The Big One Will Be the Last Game

The Acalanes Dons draw down the curtain on the 1953 grid season tonight when they meet up with the Mt. Diablo Red Devils on the Concord gridiron in an 8 o'clock game.

The Devils have already clinched the 1953 title by virtue of their undefeated record, and only the Dons stand in the way of an undefeated season for Mt. Diablo.

Acalanes started the year in fine style. The Dons had an imposing record in early season play, only to be upset by the Albany Cougars and then to collapse last Friday night before the red-hot Antioch Panthers.

The loss to the Panthers threw all Don pennant hopes out the window.

INJURIES HAVE riddled the already thin Acalanes squad, and the Dons go into tonight's game as definite underdogs.

The Acalanes-Diablo game is one of traditional rivalry. That fact may produce a far better game than comparative records would indicate.

THE DEVILS have a heavy and tough line, which has a fine defensive record this season.

Coached by Rod Franz, Diablo has depended on a rugged, grinding ground game to score.

On occasion, Quarterback McKean has displayed a good passing arm, with his favorite receiver an All-County candidate, Ed Healy, who stands well over the 6-foot mark.

THE DON GRID machine has fumed and sputtered more times than it has run smoothly in the past few weeks.

A return to early season form, plus a few breaks, could put the Dons in the upset of the year.

But on the basis of last week's play, there seems little chance of that happening.

Both elevens are predominantly seniors, the Dons having 27 four-year men on the squad, while Diablo has 24.

THE INCENTIVE will be there for both elevens to want to win. Diablo wants an undefeated season plus a victory which would give it possession of the perpetual cup for another year.

The Dons want the trophy. There's also the fact that to win over Diablo would mean a fairly successful season, regardless of what has happened the rest of the season.

County League Split -- 3 Groups In New Setup

The much-discussed dividing of the Contra Costa High School League became a reality Tuesday afternoon, when administrative heads of 18 Bay Area schools met at Las Lomas High School.

The school officials finally came up with a two-year solution of the ever-growing problem of a new arrangement of schools for athletic play.

THE NEW SETUP really takes in three counties. A proposed name is the Tri-County League.

The new league consists of three separate six-team groups. Plans call for the setup to be for two years, after which a further revision may take place, since by then the present schools will have grown and new schools will be entering the picture.

THE DONS, Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill land in the No. 1 division, along with Mt. Diablo, Pittsburg and Albany.

In Division 2, the schools are John Swett of Crockett, Alhambra of Martinez, Liberty of Brentwood, Antioch, San Ramon of Danville and Livermore.

Division 3 consists of Armitajo of Suisun, Emeryville, Amador of Pleasanton, Benicia, Vacaville and Rio Vista.

THE NEW DIVISIONS mark the biggest change in the athletic competitive setup since the inception of the Contra Costa League.

One of the problems facing the new setup is the drawing up of schedules and a codifying of new league rules.

Competitive play under the new arrangement is scheduled to start with the 1954-55 school year.

Football's Unpredictability Shown by Dons' Up-Down Record This Season

By ERWIN MATSON

There is probably no game as unpredictable as football. Like horse-racing, it is a sport in which it is impossible to tell what is going to happen each time out.

Eleven individuals make up a football team. When all 11 are up, the team is tops. When they are down, the team is a flop.

The Dons, in their season opener against Piedmont and Pittsburg, looked like a fine ball club, trampled Alhambra in their next outing, then fell apart at the seams as they dropped one to Albany.

They haven't played a good game since, and last Friday dropped to an all-season low against Antioch.

Mt. Diablo's Devils slipped into the championship automatically last Friday night, as they were idle while the Dons were the only team with a chance even to tie them for top honors.

Tonight's Acalanes-Diablo game, to be played at Diablo will be a top attraction, since the two elevens will be fighting for the trophy at stake between the schools.

Diablo, on the basis of record, is top-heavy favorite, and it will take a stellar performance by the Dons to overcome the high-riding Devils.

Unpredictability of football holds true all the way from pro teams to rank amateur aggregations. A collegiate example of this was last Saturday's California-Washington game at Berkeley.

Up to the Washington encounter, Cal had lost four games.

But on Saturday, Cal could do no wrong—and Washington, no right. Chances are Cal could have scored 100 points if it so desired—against a team that tied USC and gave Stanford a good battle.

Panthers Swamp Don Varsity in 33-0 Shellacking

Acalanes' Dons held up well enough the first half last Friday night but split at the seams and fell apart in the final two periods, to receive a 33-0 walloping from a powerful and well-versed Antioch Panther eleven at Acalanes Memorial Field.

The Panthers ran and passed the Acalanes eleven ragged.

The two teams battled on fairly even terms the first half, with Antioch Halfback Carl Maxwell proving to be the difference as he ran around right end for 60 yards late in the first quarter.

It was 7-0 when the conversion try was good.

THE DONS FOUND the going tough as fumbles and a sturdy Antioch defense kept the Acalanes offense bottled up.

The roof fell in for the Dons early in the second half, when Antioch took the kickoff back to its 15-yard line and on the first play from scrimmage broke Maxwell in the clear on the identical play on which he had scored earlier. He went all the way.

Antioch's next score came when Quarterback Jacobs passed to All-County End Bangman for a T.D., with the play consuming 30 yards.

ANTIOCH KICKED OFF, the

Prep Basketball Season Promises Slam-Bang Play

Basketball season is just around the corner, and, on the basis of returning veterans, it looks like a slam-bang season ahead in the Contra Costa prep league.

Alhambra, Diablo, Albany and Pittsburg look to have excellent fives in the making, while the Dons will be anything but easy to handle.

One of the biggest problems of the local circuit is getting enough competent officials to go around.

Last season separate sets of officials were used for Varsity and Bee games. That meant a lot of good men had to be on hand if all games were to be well-handled.

SOME NOW FEEL that it would be better to have one good set of officials work both games.

Others have suggested that one experienced and capable official should be paired with a new man in order to get a better job done.

At present, everything is in the discussion stage, with nothing actually arrived at, as far as a solution of the problem is concerned.

COACHES in basketball have a problem this year of keeping their squads busy and interested in early season, as they have but one practice game.

It is a lot easier to drill and work when one has a game to look forward to.

Long periods without competition are difficult to handle from a coaching point of view.

INTEL-SQUAD games will have to take up the slack, but at best they are a poor substitute for outside competition.

In view of returning veterans and the class of ball played last season, you can expect this county's representative to be well at the top of the list in the Tournament of Champions, which is played at the conclusion of the season and involves the champions of the various leagues.

Wise shoppers patronize hometown merchants. They save money—and they know that the hometown merchant is interested in the community.

Ridley, Oxsen Will Coach Don Basketball Teams

Basketball gets under way in mid-November, with the close of football, and this season will find two new coaches at Acalanes High. Jean Ridley will take over the reins of the Varsity five.

Harold Oxsen will direct the Bees.

Lee Arth, who handled the Varsity the past several seasons, has moved to a new job in the Southland.

Last year's Bee mentor, Charles Eaton, will devote himself to prep season track.

Resolution Lauds Dr. Arthur Beede

The services of Dr. Arthur H. Beede of 1605 Main Street, Walnut Creek, as team physician for the Acalanes High School football team were recognized Tuesday night.

Acalanes Union High School District Trustees passed a resolution of appreciation for Dr. Beede's services.

The resolution mentioned his work as team physician for a number of years and his interest in the student body at Acalanes High School.

Greener Pastures For Prep Coach?

Dame Rumor has it that a Contra Costa prep coach will leave the circuit next season for greener pastures.

These greener pastures are believed to be at Berkeley High of the Alameda County League.

Grid material and football reputation are both present in copious quantities there.

County Polio Drive

Francis L. Wilson, volunteer county chairman for the 1954 March of Dimes, has announced the opening of Contra Costa County campaign headquarters at 314 13th Street, Richmond.

Four More Score In Kickoff Kontest

Merchandise-order prize scores were racked up by four of the 122 entrants in last week's Diamond K Supply Kickoff Kontest.

As the football season nears its climax, another Kickoff Kontest is now on, with prizes totaling $45 in merchandise orders being offered by Bill Magrath, owner of Diamond K Supply.

TWENTY CORRECT guesses as to victors in this weekend's games listed in the Diamond K Supply ad in this issue will bring a prize of $25 in merchandise orders.

Nineteen picks will result in an award of $15 in merchandise orders.

Eighteen correct guesses will mean a prize of $5 in merchandise orders.

Tied contestants in any of these categories will share the award equally.

Entries must be turned in at Diamond K Supply, 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, before 11 a.m. tomorrow, or mailed and postmarked before that time. The Diamond K Supply ad in this issue gives complete rules.

TRYING FOR THE $5 merchandise-order prize, with each naming 18 grid victors (only two wrong) were George A. Barbara, 122 Polley Lane, Walnut Creek; Ralph J. Roske, 190 Cameo Drive, Danville; Harry Ebbing, 3908 South Peardale Drive, Lafayette, and C. E. Starn, 860 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek.

They share the 18-picks award—$125 in merchandise orders each.

ALSO TRYING for a $5 prize—the one offered in the October 31-November 1 list of games—were Roger Fleiss, 11 Loma Vista, Walnut Creek, and G. E. Brown, 2460 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek.

Fleiss and Brown's prediction that the Army-Tulane game would be a tie place them in the 18-correct group. So they split the award, each receiving $2.50 in merchandise orders.

Appliance Unit To Elect Officers

The Contra Costa Appliance Association will meet Wednesday night at the El Rio Hotel in Antioch for the final general membership meeting of the year at which new officers will be elected.

Bruce Lee, Walnut Creek appliance dealer, is out-going president of the association.

R. A. "Dutch" Derr, a former professional baseball and football player who is now secretary of the Soil Conservation Committee for the State Senate, will be guest speaker. He will speak on the humorous side of the game of football. Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. with dancing to follow.

Appliance dealers and their wives from throughout Contra Costa County will attend the affair.

70-Voice Choir to Entertain Parents

The 70 young voices of the Mixed Choral will present the program for Acalanes Parents' Club at its meeting Monday night in the high school gymnasium.

The group took part in the appearance of northern California high school choral groups at the University of California, sponsored by Treble Clef society, last month, and will be appearing before local audiences for the first time this term. Richard Hansen will direct.

A short business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Donald Krotz, Parents' Club president, will be held at 8 p.m.

This will be the last meeting until January, as the club traditionally holds no meeting in December. A board meeting is scheduled for January 5.

CCAL Ruling Dodges The Issue

Vandalism and delinquency are a real problem in Central Contra Costa. When considering this problem, we must look at the many influences and areas involved.

Parents, schoolmen, civic leaders and private citizens all have responsibilities in the matter. This editorial is concerned with but one aspect of that share of the responsibility which belongs to schools.

The Contra Costa County Athletic League has a ruling that prohibits any high school from holding social events following a night game. In practice the ruling applies to football and basketball games primarily. It affects Acalanes, Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill High Schools and will affect the proposed Orinda High School.

It is necessary, school officials say, because unfortunate incidents can occur after students have become keyed up over athletic contests, as in their wont. If held for the 'home' team, dances or parties will be 'crashed' by students of the competing school. If the affair is for both schools, fights are liable to break out. This is how they reason.

Is this facing the real issue? Doesn't this kind of reasoning evade the problem?

High school students do become over-excited over competitive athletic events — don't we all! These games generate enormous amounts of enthusiasm and emotion. And, after the game is over, bitter in defeat or over-stimulated in victory, students can be carried away with excitement. Vast amounts of energy are unleashed.

But the problem isn't how to keep students from expending their energies in vandalism and delinquency on the school grounds. The problem is how to keep them from expending energy in vandalism and delinquency ANYWHERE.

Although in general all adults share in the responsibility for solving this problem, in this case the schools must take the lion's share of that responsibility because the schools organize and supervise the athletic contests.

Supervised dances and parties are an ideal outlet for the energy and enthusiasm stimulated by competitive sports. They provide an opportunity for youth to learn that such excitement and enthusiasm, when directed, means pleasure and fun.

It is unfortunate that school officials have chosen to pass up that opportunity and deny students that fun.

But even more unfortunate is the result. Now students are out on the highway where excitement becomes translated into speed; they are at "hang-outs" where excitement becomes translated into the kind of thoughtless, spur-of-the-moment activity which easily results in vandalism and delinquency.

The possibility that distasteful incidents will occur is not reason enough for post-game social events to be prohibited at our high schools. This possibility only means that such affairs will have to be well-supervised. Parents would certainly help here, as they have helped the schools in many other places.

The CCAL ruling against social events following sport contests should be changed.

Performance Is Lauded by Critic

By FREDERICK FREEMAN

Kenneth Smith, bass-baritone, presented the second in the Community Concerts series before a capacity audience at Acalanes High School Saturday evening.

Smith's program included works by composers of widely diverse periods and styles. His beautiful, resonant voice was more than adequate for all the demands made upon it, and with that means at his command he was able to project in turn humor, pathos, passion, hatred — any of the dramatic elements needed to interpret the miniature dramas embodied in his songs.

THE AUDIENCE responded enthusiastically to Smith's vivid interpretation, particularly in the case of humorous songs, such as Henry Purcell's "Man Is for the Woman Made," and "Captain Stratton's Fancy," by Deems Taylor.

But his listeners also enjoyed the fervent sentiment of the Schumann song-cycle, "The Poet's Love," and welcomed the return to song recital programs of the beautiful German Lieder.

At the piano Howard Barr provided the singer with a sympathetic support and in a group of piano solos proved himself a capable pianist and sensitive musician.

SMITH IS A rising figure in the musical world. He has already appeared with success as soloist with the country's leading orchestras and has booked important engagements for the coming season.

It is gratifying to note the growing public support of the Community Concerts. This year the limit in membership was reached, and at the two concerts already given, every seat in the hall has been taken.

Diablo PTA Sees Social Drama

A socio-drama, "Cooperative Efforts Lead to Solutions of Children's Problems" was presented to the Mt. Diablo Council of Parents and Teachers by a cast of various specialized teaching experts of this area.

The drama showed how parents, experts within the school, and county agencies work together in solving children's problems.

Mrs. Lawrence Ulrich, chairman of the council's committee of health, acted as director and narrator.

An invocation by Chaplain Goldmann initiated the regular meeting.

Mrs. L. G. Longacre, Warren Ronneberg, Edward Caswell and Leslie Lopez were elected to serve as the Council Life Membership Committee.

Bring them to worship this week

When they're little is the best time to give the children the biggest gift of all . . . Faith.

Faith, bulwark of the soul in troubled times. Source of inner peace every day. With it, your children will be ready to meet the obstacles . . . to relish the happy times fully.

And there's no better way to help them find Faith than by making attendance at church or synagogue a family affair.

Go together this week . . . and every week.

'Born Yesterday' Top Notch Production

By THE REVIEWER

The Intimate Theater came up with top-drawer amateur theater last week when it staged Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday" at Acalanes High School.

The performance was entirely satisfactory in all regards; it was exciting and powerful where its leading players were concerned. Orealia Salonen and Malcolm Sagenkahn took on very different assignments and achieved startling successes.

As the familiar Billie Dawn, she was the hard and glittering ex-chorus girl who emerged tender and perceptive.

AS THE BLUNT and brutal Harry Brock, he tore into a full-blown characterization and sustained it all the way — right down to the final curtain.

Both achieved unusual projection of their roles, he enjoying every minute and saving every outburst, she deftly handling comedy and tears in turn.

Orealia Salonen was dumb and coldly stubborn, then confused and curious, then tender and sweet, then clear-headed and strong. She achieved complete identification with the character of Billie.

AS PAUL VERRAL, the crusading newsman who helps Billie to awaken, John Nejedly was very adequate, as was Jack Varner playing the back-sliding attorney directing Brock's affairs.

Nejedly was convincing as a crusader, but less effective when smitten by love. A certain awkwardness in transition left his portrayal uneven.

Varner's performance, on the other hand, was even and consistent throughout. His Ed Devereux was, perhaps, a shade too philosophical; a back-sliding has moments of self-disgust or of hypocrisy.

As Eddie Brock, Harry's spineless relative and bartender, George Becker was appropriately down-trodden, if somewhat monotonous.

OTHERS IN THE CAST — all entirely satisfactory — included Leon Dinkin as Senator Hedges, Francis Shurtliff as Mrs. Hedges, Bill Stanton as the assistant hotel manager, Judy Sagenkahn as the maid, Charles Gebhardt as the bellhop, Bill Stevens as the barber and Corinne Newmann as manicurist and waitress.

Dinkin is also director of the Intimate Theater. A director's efforts can never be adequately gauged, but for a production of this caliber, he must be given the highest praise.

All in all, last weekend's performances speak well for the future of little theater activity in Central Contra Costa, and particularly for the active and talented Intimate Theater group.

Not only were the players promising, but the staging, sets and costumes were unusually good.

Those who missed "Born Yesterday" must count themselves among the unfortunate. Those who saw it will look forward with anticipation to the next Intimate Theater production.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

A letter appeared in the November 7 issue of this column which should have a very definite answer. It is necessary to probe behind the significance of such a letter to secure the answers.

1. The letter was a direct attack at a very controversial figure in the present administration.

(a) A person attempting to answer the statement is immediately trapped into taking the defensive, whether or not he agrees with what the congressional committee is doing.

(b) YOU NEED POINT OUT one factor to avoid this pitfall. The people who have made this man the very ballyhooed curtain stealer he is, are the same persons who wish to use him against those he is associated with and those whom he represents.

These are the people who have given the senator all the publicity, by over recognition of his powers outwardly to the public, while belittling and screaming for limitations or passing resolutions within their so-called liberal groups, against such senatorial committee activity.

(c) The demands of the so-called very liberal thinking groups, such as the Americans for Democratic Action, overlook the very basic constitutional right of representation of all sections of this country, by their own choice and a representation of all strata of opinion.

These groups camouflage their programs by quoting violations of what they consider basic constitutional rights and defend those who invoke parts of our Constitution to avoid answering questions put to them about their loyalty, past and present.

2. THE LETTER, signed Dave Comstock, was written by a man who has an excellent understanding of how to use and play politics. This letter serves as an opening gun to our congressional race of the coming year.

(a) Dave Comstock is a very strong supporter and worker for Robert Condon.

(b) The letter is one attempt to divert public thinking to a controversial figure in the present administration and then play up very liberal thinking against such congressional committees.

(c) THIS LINE of political play is not new to these men. Mr. Comstock in the last election used such liberal subterfuge, such as to ask the opposition candidate, for a large paid advertisement, how he could stand behind the statements of his campaigners, if he were a truly religious member of his church.

Yes, Dave Comstock is well-schooled politically and there is no such thing as a low blow.

3. The letter of November 7 and the paid advertisement were both divertive measures, but what purpose did or will they serve?

The best defense is an OFFENSIVE move yourself. Mr. Condon will be definitely on the defense when we get into this congressional race. Therefore they have tried to throw up an issue which is good ballyhoo for them.

4. IT IS MY FIRM belief in the coming election the voters will wade through this ballyhoo of so-called liberalism and look to the issues and to the record.

(a) Why has Mr. Condon not cleared the situation of his refusal of admittance to the atomic testing ground for security reasons?

(b) Why did our congressman not publicize this so-called unfair act event two months after it had happened? He recognized the situation at that time, only after it was brought to light by a reporter checking through the records.

(c) Why did Mr. Condon vote against the tidelands bill, which will do so much to help the people of our state?

MY HOPE IS that the coming congressional race will not stray far afield to the Wisconsin farm lands or to the Democratic bigots of the Southern states.

A frank discussion of the basic issues that will or do now affect our present government operation is what the voters of this area are entitled to.

RONALD G. LIGHT, D.D.S.

Dons To Tour Stanford Campus

Acalanes high school students who have expressed an interest in attending Stanford University will be the guests of the Stanford student body this Saturday.

Don students will be feted to a luncheon and a tour of the Indian campus. They will also be guests at the Stanford-San Jose State clash in the afternoon.

Making the trip are Don Rathjen, Barbara Bishop, Bob Gray, Richard Johnson, Barbara Krotz, Lennie Lamb, Joan McAdams, George Reichert and Pui Garrison. They will be accompanied by an Acalanes faculty member.

The Acalanes counseling department also furnished students interested in other colleges with direct contact and information bulletins on college offerings and requirements.

Speakers from various colleges also visit the Acalanes campus for discussion with seniors.

Under The Sun

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Will construction on another section of the Diablo Freeway be started next year?

This all-important question will be answered in Sacramento, possibly within a week, when the State Highway Commission meets to announce which area gets how much during the next fiscal year.

Will it be the Pleasant Hill cloverleaf between Lafayette and Walnut Creek? Lafayette by-pass? Section of the Walnut Creek or Concord freeway?

Or will the Richmond freeway be the chosen one? Some people think the money will be allocated to the Richmond part of the county because last year the big appropriation went to the Orinda overpass.

"But," we all immediately shout, "Mt. Diablo speedway is becoming unbearable. We need relief now!"

With this in mind, The SUN's major editorial goal has been — and will continue to be: Solution of our transportation needs.

Let's cross our fingers

Knowing about the commission's coming meeting, we thought of a campaign. Why not suggest to our readers to write personal letters to the state highway commissioners, pleading that the Diablo Freeway be included in the next budget.

We presented the idea to Elliot Hartman, chairman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, for his reaction.

Elliott said he did not think it would be a good idea. Reasons: "Many detailed presentations have been made by the federation and the Contra Costa County Development Association. The commission is well aware of the area's great interest and the general picture. If funds are not to be included, letters probably wouldn't influence the commission. If the commission is contemplating including such funds, there's the possibility that a flood of letters might rub them the wrong way and antagonize them."

Well, we're not certain that Elliott is right or wrong. We've always heard that "the squeaking wheel gets the most grease," etc., etc.

On the other hand, Elliott probably knows more about our highway problems and the commission than anyone else in this area. So we decided to follow his advice.

Elliott has done a magnificent job as chairman of the federation the past two years. Taking valuable time from his manufacturing business (children's pajamas, etc.), he has traveled to Sacramento numerous times to outline the highway needs of Central Contra Costa to the commission. He may be there again at the coming meeting. He and his officers have worked closely with county and state highway officials and I'm certain that this cooperation has already started to pay off.

So, instead of letters, let's each of us cross our fingers until we hear from Sacramento.

No sirens, no red lights

Last week I wrote that the county is finally investigating the purchase of cars to be furnished to the sheriff's office and other departments. At present Sheriff Long personally furnishes the 26 cars — and the county pays him 7½ cents a mile. This amounts to a profit to Long of thousands of dollars annually.

This week I was reminded of a further fact proving how ridiculous the whole situation is. Because the sheriff's fleet of cars are privately owned, they cannot carry red lights or sirens.

Thus, it is not too unusual for the State Highway Patrol or city police to stop our sheriff's cars for suspicious actions — only to find they are stopping another law enforcement vehicle.

Last year's Grand Jury strongly criticized this lack of red light and siren and recommended immediate correction. But, for that matter, Grand Juries for years have recommended that the county furnish the cars.

There is some talk about each deputy providing his own patrol car, as is done in Berkeley. Under state law, a light and siren can be installed on one police car registered to the officer who owns it.

This, however, would not save the county any money. The county should buy or lease the cars.

Notes on Sanitary District

I hear that Bob Kahn is being asked to run in the Sanitary District election next year.

Hats off to members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Sanitary District. (Kahn is a hard-working member of the committee.) It did a splendid job for the district and the community. And when its original goal was completed last week, it became "inactive" — only to reorganize if needed.

A short, sad story

A sad story about a former SUN correspondent, Mrs. Florence Henderson. A Folger coffee man called at her door with appliance prizes — if she had a package of his product on hand. She moaned that she usually buys Folger's but this one time had passed it up in coffee, no prize.

Then, at dinner she went to the cupboard. Yes, you guessed it — there was a can of Folger's.

(And because we've given Folger's so much free advertising, I want to go on record as saying SUN staffers only drink Manning's in our coffee bar 'cause they think it is by far the best.)

WITH A.M.A. YOU'LL DIAL FARTHER, FASTER

How A.M.A.—Automatic Message Accounting—streamlines telephone service with electronic magic

All over the West, people are making routine calls over much greater distances than they used to. We're always working to tailor service to the changing needs of those who use it. . . for example, making it possible for people to dial more of their calls over longer distances. To do this, we needed automatic equipment to record the information necessary for billing the out-of-town calls you dial. Bell Telephone Laboratories solved this complex problem with A.M.A., an amazing achievement in electronics.

A.M.A. cuts costs, helps keep rates low

A.M.A. is fast, accurate, and greatly extends the scope of dial telephone service. It saves time. . . and money. And it's typical of what we're doing to build better, more efficient telephone service—keep costs down and make your telephone ever more useful.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS ONE OF TODAY'S BEST BARGAINS

Faster telephone service is one advantage of A.M.A., which makes possible direct dialing by customers of out-of-town calls. Already installed in some parts of the Pacific West, the equipment automatically keeps track of your out-of-town calls with uncanny accuracy, sorting them out and compiling them for your monthly bills. Other installations in the West will be made as the intricate equipment becomes available. For our eventual goal is customer dialing of long distance calls to all parts of the nation.
